Residents want action to stop hole drownings

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Residents surveyed this week by The Sea Coast Echo generally feel "something" should be undertaken immediately to stop drownings in a "deep hole" in the Mississippi Sound off Buccaneer State Park which has claimed the lives of 25 people during the last several years.

Sentiments expressed by 11 of 16 citizens interviewed in an on-the-street survey conducted this week in Waveland regarding the man-eating hole were solidly in support of a need for immediate action on the matter.

People also think local politicians are "passing the buck" in finding a solution to deep hole drownings. They feel the cavity should be filled immediately.

The mud-filled hole, located some 1,500 feet offshore from Buccaneer State Park and Gulfside Assembly Center in Waveland, recently claimed its 25th victim even though the hazard is clearly marked with signs erected around the 500-foot by 800-foot area in 1979.

A U.S. Army Corps of Engineers dredging project in 1966, which formed the present beach from Ballentine Street in Bay St. Louis to Bayou Cadet along Beach Boulevard, apparently created the deadly Mississippi Sound hole.

In 1979 silty spoils dredged from the nearby Bayou Cadet channel were pumped into the hole, but recent drownings have apparently resulted from swimmers becoming stuck in the cavity's quicksand-like bottom.

Mayor John Longo recently recommended a fishing reef be constructed to fill the treacherous cavity and has written Gov. William Winter.

Waveland burglary take tops $100,000

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A Waveland man faces a preliminary hearing in city court tonight charged with stealing over $100,000 in electronic equipment, antiques, rare stones and precious metals.

Kenneth E. Lewis, 23, of Singleton Street was arrested by Waveland Police at 1 a.m. Thursday and charged with burglarizing the 716 St. Anthony Street home of Homer Ringo on March 28.

Lewis is in Hancock County Jail in Bay St. Louis being held under $10,000 bond.

Chief Donald Dorn of the Waveland Police Department Wednesday afternoon reported none of the more than $100,000 in various items stolen have been recovered, but said the incident is still under investigation.

The police chief said items stolen from the Waveland residence include two color televisions, a television video tape recorder, two eight-track stereo tape decks, a movie camera, a cassette tape recorder, white antique jade valued at over $40,000, a variety of old coins, two antique pocket watches, five pairs of gold antique cufflinks, five decks of cards, and a four-inch Yugoslavian crystal ball and stand.

Participating in the arrest and ongoing investigation are Officer Claude Yarborough and Investigators Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille and Sandra Henley.

APPLIANCE ROBBERY
Another Waveland man is also facing a Thursday night hearing charged with burglary and possession of marijuana. Timmy Lee Mercer, 21, of 1105 Rue La Salle St. is being held in county jail under $10,000 bond.

Dorn said Mercer allegedly robbed a television set, an electric frying pan and electric sweeper from the home of Ora Koehl of 638 Dick St. in Waveland May 31.

The police chief said Mercer was arrested at his residence at 10:55 p.m. June 3. He said less than one ounce of marijuana was also found during the arrest.

Dorn said only the television set has been recovered in an ongoing investigation by Henley and Tartavouille.

Hancock fugitive caught

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A man who escaped from Hancock County jail almost three months ago has been captured in Florida.

Kenneth (Trap) Rawley, 25, was in jail here serving a 12-year sentence for attempted armed robbery and aggravated assault of a convenience store manager attempting a night deposit at a Bay St. Louis bank.

He escaped on March 19 by sawing out bars covering his jail cell window. Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson Wednesday morning said, "Tuesday afternoon we received information regarding Rawley's whereabouts."

"I contacted the Monroe County Sheriff's Department Detective Division in Marathon, Fla. to relay the information of Rawley's whereabouts," he explained.

Peterson said the Monroe detectives apprehended Rawley some 30 minutes after the telephone call.

"When the subject was apprehended he was employed repairing crab traps and was using a different name. Positive identification resulted after a fingerprint identification was conducted," he said.

Rawley is now confined at the Monroe Sheriff's Department without bond, he said.

Peterson said a hearing will be conducted today in Marathon to determine if Rawley will waive extradition proceedings to return to Mississippi.

The sheriff said Rawley will be transported directly to Parchman State Penitentiary.

Knights' Notes

The clean-up of St. Mary's Cemetery can be declared a success, despite the threatening weather and adverse conditions of the cemetery grounds Sunday morning.

Over a dozen Knights contributed their time and efforts in cutting the grass, clearing up plots and hauling away debris.

The entire project was in response to several complaints about the neglected condition of the parish cemetery.

Several Knights have proven that they are always willing to lend a helping hand, even though no one may recognize their efforts. When Morgan O'Rourke, a brother Knight himself, who is an usher at St. Clare's Parish in Waveland, discovered there was a shortage of ushers at Mass recently, Brothers C. J. Piazza, Ed Friloux and John Clements quickly volunteered to fill in the void and served throughout the services. Ed Friloux spent the past weekend as medic at the Ordeal held at V-Bar Camp Reservation, the Boy Scout camp in upper Hancock County.

The Boy Scouts is just one of the organizations dealing with youths to which Brother Friloux contributes his talents and leadership. He is currently organizing the Columbian Squires for the Pere Le Duc Council.

In addition to recently contributing more than 100 plants to the OLG Parish Fair in the name of Pere Le Duc Council and its Ladies Auxiliary, Lucien and Trudy Gellis have also donated a truckload of items to the fair's White Elephant Booth sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The council will hold a general election of officers Monday night at 8 p.m. Brothers are urged to attend to express their voice on the leadership of the council.

Another occasion to be marked on your Knights calendar is the Communion Mass Sunday morning at St. Ann's in Clermont Harbor at 9:30 a.m. Grand Knight Bob Hubbard urges all Knights to attend.

Hill's salary will increase from $22,200 to $23,366 and Pair's salary will increase from $27,000 to $28,166.

Both board members Louie Ladner and Woodrow Ladner voted against those pay increases for the administrators.

Louie Ladner stated, "I think the salaries are well above the principals' salaries and the state scale. I think we substantially raised those salaries and paid them this last year."

Woodrow Ladner made no comment on the increases during the meeting but also voted against them.

Board member Johnny Banks, George Ladner and Monvel Cuevas voted in favor of the increases.

All remaining non-certified personnel received a $500 across the board increase for the first nine months of the school year plus an additional $55.55 for each additional month over the nine month period.

The increase also include a one-half of one percent increase of the base salary for each year of employment with the school system.

Bits 'n pieces

The opening of the Mississippi shrimp season and the speckle trouts starting to bite a little better has caused an increase in the number of boaters in local waters.

We urge everyone to be extremely careful in boating ventures and to please observe all Coast Guard regulations.

We hope everyone will be successful on fishing and shrimp expeditions.

We would like to ask all anglers to please take home and properly dispose of all monofilament lines.

Many water fowl get tangled in discarded fishing lines and die each year. The monofilament line is a serious culprit because it never seems to rot.

The Krewe of Triton, those folks who bring us the lovely Mardi Gras parade on Mardi Gras Day, are having a goin' show Saturday.

The big fund raiser will be held at the Waveland Civic Center on Coleman Avenue and we hope everyone will attend.

The event is to be a Womanless Beauty Pageant, and we are told there are some real 'beauties' signed up for the competition. Admission is only $3 per person.

There is a big push on clean-up in Hancock County and we think it is a great endeavour.

In our local financial institutions and several selected business places, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has left some litter bags. We hope everyone will take one and put it in the car and use.

Our government spends far too much money each year just policing the sides of highways and streets of litter thrown out of car windows.

Help all of us 'Keep America Beautiful.' Many folks are trying and all we need is a few more.

We observed two lads on a bicycle Tuesday at the intersection of US-90 and Dunbar Avenue.

It was hard to believe that the two never stopped at the highway, just rode their bikes across on a red light.

This is serious business. We know the ball games are important, but it seems all persons crossing US-90 should wait for a green light, especially on bicycles.

We hope all parents will urge their children to observe traffic signals, especially those on bikes.

We wish to congratulate Pat Harvill on being named the 1981 campaign chairperson for the United Way.

The 1981 campaign for the United Way in Hancock will be kicking off real soon and we hope everyone will help Pat in reaching the $40,000 goal.

Thousands of Hancockians are helped each year by the United Way.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

My local ad man tells me I should advertise regularly, even when business is not so good. But I feel like I can't afford to spend when there's no income. Who is right?

Dear WIR: Both, I would say, with some modification.

Regular advertising is as important as regular opening hours and days for your place of business.

You could save money by closing your place during the slow months or slow days, but this would be a rather radical and disastrous approach.

For keeping your place open is the only way to establish a regular, stable business appearance within the range of the front door.

By the same token, regular promotion, even during slow times, accomplishes the same result. It keeps you in the marketplace beyond the range of the front door.

But, as we agreed earlier in this article, your argument also has merit—to a degree.

To overspend in off seasons would indeed be foolish, especially if you should be so foolhardy as to confine your total promotional efforts to those slow times.

For it has been found, time and time again, that demand created for out of season goods is almost always at the expense of over-promotion or extreme price cutting.

The most expedient promotions come just before a demand develops in the marketplace. Being late with promotions is almost as poor timing as being out of season completely.

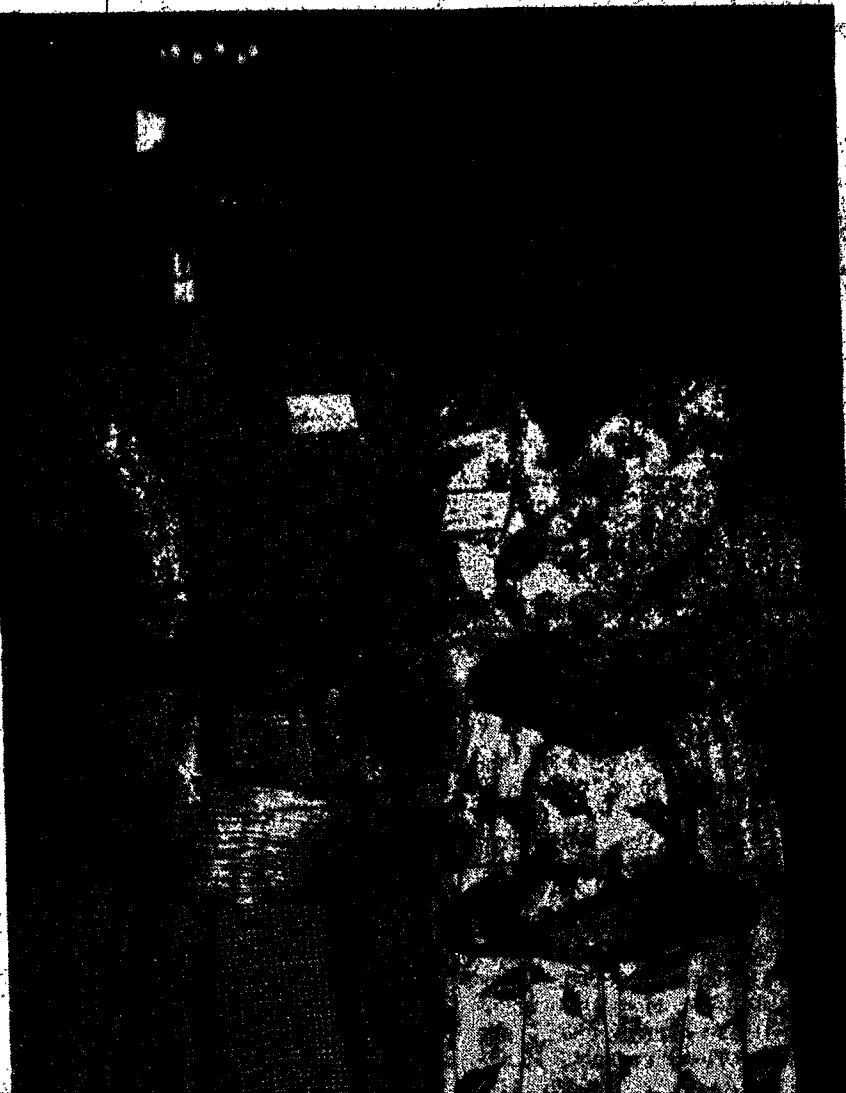

The maxim is: Ads produce more results when the promotion anticipates a demand, rather than reacts to one. However, it is possible to successfully create an out of season demand for goods if it is done on a regular basis and is realistically promoted.

A good example is mid-winter or "early season" air-conditioner promotions that many purchasers have come to expect, and thus may wait for before buying.

But even these promotions may be at the expense of regular season sales at regular prices.

One important difference, however—pre-season sales may have some carry-over to the season of full demand. But the post-season sale simply interferes with promotion of the next season's goods.

CELEBRATING HOSPITALITY DAY.—Members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club donned dresses of the ante bellum era Saturday and helped greet visitors at the I-10 Hospitality Station in Hancock County. Hancock County Homemakers also took time off and offered visitors milk in conjunction with the regular staff of the local facility in helping Mississippi celebrate Hospitality Day. Among the Bay-Waveland Garden Center members giving flowers were Mary Evans, left, and Doris Mohr. Lillian Dillard, manager of the Hospitality Station sponsored by the Division of Tourism, Mississippi Department of Economic Development, should be commended for the fine job she and her staff do daily at the Hancock Facility. Just think, 15,156 visitors registered at the facility during the month of May, that is a lot of folks. Stop by the facility sometime and see how nice it really is. By the way, there are many picnic tables available. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Alcoholism now held to be serious illness

In recent years people have been changing their minds about alcoholics.

In the past, they were condemned and rejected. Now there is an earnest desire to help rather than disregard or punish. People are coming to realize that the alcoholic should no more be ridiculed than the cerebral palsy victim. They are recognizing alcoholism for what it is—a serious and tragic disease, a major health problem.

A pamphlet from the American Medical Association points out that the physician today sees the alcoholic as a sick person with an illness that has many sides and consequences. A remarkable upsurge in medical research is in progress. Intensive treatment centers for alcoholic patients are springing up across the country. An increasing number of general hospitals are admitting patients with conditions diagnosed as alcoholism and giving them care.

BE A GOOD CITIZEN...

Please use litter barrels, trash containers, etc., whenever you have trash that needs to be disposed. You will be saving money for yourself and for your fellow citizens.

The Clean-Up and Beautification Committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce

The American Medical Association and the World Health Organization, as well as many other professional groups, regard alcoholism as a disease. The judiciary and lawmakers also are recognizing it as a disease.

The alcoholic usually drinks heavily and gets drunk often. But quantity and frequency are only one sign. Some alcoholics actually drink less over a given length of time than some social drinkers, but this does not alter the basic condition or make it less serious. The key factor is loss of control and craving for the drug alcohol.

Physical disabilities and difficulties in adjusting to life may contribute to the development of the illness, as well as result from it. Drinking by one's self and drinking in the morning may be signs of alcoholism.

Living on skid-row, being irresponsible, and exhibiting other socially unacceptable behavior are not necessarily a part of alcoholism. In fact, alcoholics who are financially successful professional persons are numerous and constitute one of the most seriously neglected groups of problem drinkers in this country.

Dear Sir:
I do not know whom to approach with this problem but it is one which has bothered me considerably and I felt that perhaps bringing it to the attention of the public might produce some progress.

Each day I drive through the Bay St. Louis Post Office grounds to deposit my mail in the drive-thru depository for mail.

More and more of late the parking space immediately to the right of the drive-thru is occupied and I must park my car and either get out of it and walk to the box or take the mail inside the post office.

The object of the drive-thru depository is to make this an easy way for people to be able to mail their correspondence without having to park their cars, etc.

Is there some way in which this space can become a "non-parking" area?

Gentlemen:

We wish to commend and thank the members of the American Legion Post 139 for the marvelous experience they afforded our sons, among many of them, at the annual Boy's State which was held last week near Jackson.

The boys had an opportunity to observe and participate in all aspects of state government from the elections process to urban planning and development.

Not only were the nominees to Boy's State given the opportunity to attend, but the Legion completely supported them financially even to round trip transportation and spending money.

There are many fine service groups in our area doing wonderful things for our citizens.

We wanted to take this opportunity to share publicly through the medium of your newspaper what the American Legion has done for our sons in particular and young people in general.

Service Officer praised for efforts on behalf of local veterans

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:
A word of very special thanks to Mike Ladner, Veteran's Service Officer for Hancock County.

His job, in theory, is to guide the Veteran through the maze of forms and the intimidating, often contradictory volumes of regulations, restrictions, amendments and new acts of the national Congress under which the VA operates.

That's in theory. In practice Mike has to be a great diplomat, a fountain of knowledge and a therapist.

A veteran's problem is that he has to be a diplomat and a therapist every inch.

Too often diplomacy fails and he has to be a therapist and a therapist every inch.

The VA must be clucked into (Hamey's) to the Veteran that which and precise, the Veteran's benefits should be as spontaneous as our income tax returns every year.

They are not. Veterans' benefits, which are intended as compensation for service to the nation, are doled and parcelled out a snippet at a time as rewards. Rewards for "cooperating," maintaining another Federal bureaucracy.

The VA wouldn't dare impugn themselves at the expense of the Nation's Citizen Soldiers if our elected representatives were of one mind.

In his letter, Mr. Editor, Sea Coast Echo, Mike Ladner had that special courage to take Senator Cochran to task for his role against VA funding.

His job, in effect, kicked a king. He kicked a king. He should be thanked by us, personally.

Cutbacks eliminate airpark improvements

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission will not receive Farmer's Home Administration funds for certain Stennis International Airpark improvements.

W. Wilson Webre, director, said at a recent commission meeting he reported funds were not available for installing a sewerage system and water tank at the airport industrial park.

"We'd been toying with the idea of securing some FmHA funds for business and industry, but the fund's weren't available due to a cutback in federal funding," he explained.

Webre said the Navy Oceanographic Office at the National Space Technology Laboratories would have placed a facility in the airpark if the improvements were undertaken.

The director said the commissioners also discussed a current project in which the airport's wind cone and segmented circle, at the base of the wind direction device, are being moved.

Webre said the cone has been relocated from an 'overgrown' site west of the runway to an area between the taxiway and hanger apron on the east side of the field.

"We have already moved the cone and its pole, but commission crews will soon be moving some 21 pieces of concrete which form the circle," the director reported.

Webre explained that the cone along with the circle at its base indicates wind direction for aircraft pilots negotiating landings.

The director also reported that the commission approved selling a $225,000 plant building to Halter Marine, Inc. at Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Webre said the company has maintained a lease-purchase agreement with the commission for several years, but Halter now plans to 'exercise its right to purchase' the building.

The commission also authorized a $3,391 payment to the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources in Long Beach.

The director said the payment was a Coastal Energy Impact Program overpayment in a $39,000 Bayou Cadet harbor master plan prepared by Burk and Associates, a New Orleans planning and engineering firm, last year.

BMR administered the project's funding.

The commission and the County Board of Supervisors shelved the plan due to an apparent lack of funds.

The county's total share of the CEIP project is $13,786.

Shrimpers capsize in Bay

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Two shrimpers were rescued after their 18 foot fibre glass hull sank in the sound off Bay St. Louis around noon Wednesday.

Bay St. Louis Investigator Matt Karl said, "James Choina, Bay St. Louis, and Thomas Shaw, Picayune, were shrimping about one half mile from shore when their hull sank. The two were rescued by a boat from Pass Christian which picked up their distress signal on CB radio."

"We were not able to get the name of the rescuers as they dropped the two men off on the Legion pier and took off," Karl stated.

Robert Boudin commented, "I am glad no one was hurt, and the CB radio sure came in handy for the rescue."

The men were in the water for about 15 or 20 minutes before being picked-up. Efforts to recover the boat and shrimp trawl were to be made later in the day.

In addition to Karl and Boudin, Bay Patrolman Harris Boudreaux was also at the scene.

Man, youth nabbed in Bay theft

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A Bay St. Louis man was scheduled for trial in city court last night for reportedly stealing a stereo system and revolver from his lawyer.

Chief Douglas Williams of the Bay St. Louis Police Department, recently said Mathew J. Parr, 19, of 205 Utman Ave., Apartment B, was arrested for allegedly stealing the system from Attorney William Stuart's office at the corner of Main and Gex Streets.

Investigator Matt Karl said a 17-year-old juvenile from Louisiana was also arrested and placed in custody of the Hancock County Youth Court.

Williams stated Stuart represented Parr in court when he was fined $500 on April 30 for allegedly discharging a firearm within the city limits.

"The theft occurred between 10:30 p.m. and midnight June 3," he said. Parr was arrested at about 11 a.m. June 4.

"We had a tip that Parr had robbed the lawyers office," Williams reported. "We went to the apartment where Parr was living, received consent from his roommate to search the residence, and found the stereo equipment," the chief said.

Williams said a turntable, amplifier, tape recorder, two speakers and a .38 caliber revolver were apparently stolen. The total value of the items is approximately $1,500.

Parr is being held in jail under $10,000 bond.

Karl said the juvenile is also being held in jail because no adult would assume custody of the youth.

Also participating in the investigation and arrest were Patrolmen Larry Ladner and Harris Boudreaux.

PAINT THEFT
A city court trial for two other men charged in another burglary was also scheduled for Wednesday night.

Those men and two juveniles were arrested recently by police and charged with burglary of a home.

Williams reported Daniel Pavolini, 18, of 503 Easterbrook St. and Albert Spadoni, 18, of 2211 Waveland-Kiln Cutoff Road, were arrested along with two 17-year-old juveniles at Pavolini's residence at 3 p.m. May 18.

The police chief said all four were charged with stealing three gallons of paint, paint brushes and $25 in change from the home of Dorothy Johnson of 308 St. Francis St. in Bay St. Louis.

Karl said more arrests are pending in the case.

"The arrest was prompted by evidence found in and around the Pavolini residence," the investigator stated.

Karl said Pavolini was apparently painting his residence with the stolen paint.

Williams said Pavolini and Spadoni were both released under $5,000 bond each.

The police chief said the two juveniles were placed in custody of the youth court.

Ladner assisted Karl in the arrest. SIX-YOULHS NABBED

Six Diamondhead youths were recently arrested for allegedly burglarizing a Bay St. Louis baseball park concession stand.

Williams reported that at 1:30 a.m. May 23 off-duty Officer Richard Trudell was driving down Hooker Street near Commergere Park when he spotted two individuals exiting the concession stand with what appeared to be beer.

Trudell radioed for police backup while following a towtruck car containing six suspects. Williams said.

The chief stated the youths were stopped at US-90 and taken to the Bay St. Louis Youth Center where they were held.

Williams said the youths were released by the youth court and placed in the custody of their parents.

Assisting Trudell were Patrolmen Larry Ladner and Chris

Wilkinson. Karl is investigating the incident.

SCHOOL'S OUT
Williams warns residents that children are now out of school for summer vacation and the 10-mile-per-hour speed limit around all-ball parks and playgrounds will be strictly enforced.

"Have just a bit of compassion and watch out for children riding our streets on bicycles," he notes.

"Protect and respect all pedestrians and drive carefully," Williams adds.

FOUR WOMAN ARRESTED
Hancock County Jail records list four women apprehended Tuesday night and charged with grand larceny by Bay St. Louis Patrolman Richard Trudell.

Patricia L. Loyd, 25; Carla G. Hyde, 19; Jean L. Page, 22; and Victoria A. Casanova, 40; were all booked at 8:45 p.m.

Williams Wednesday he had not yet received a report on the arrests and could not provide any additional information.

MULTIPLE CHARGES
A Las Vegas, Nev. man faces four charges by Bay police.

Joe Pittman, 47, was charged at 3:48 p.m. June 1 with leaving the scene of an accident, driving under the influence, damaging private property and causing bodily injury.

Williams said Pittman's car allegedly struck a vehicle parked at the corner of Main and Touline Streets, but did not know all details of the incident.

Hole.....

legislators and congressmen for assistance in such a project.

FRED BOOKHARDT

Bay St. Louis resident Fred Bookhardt simply stated he did not know anything about the Waveland hole, but had noticed some newspaper articles about drownings.

MILDRED MEANS

Mildred Means of Waveland said, "I think that the hole should be filled in, or promptly roped off."

"It's a terrible thing to have so many people drowning in that area," she noted.

Means added that she recently noticed the signs erected on the beach and didn't know why people swam in the area.

JERRY EVERIDGE

Jerry Everidge of Bay St. Louis said he was not familiar with the Waveland hole.

MARIE GERIDEAU

Marie Gerideau, a Gulfport resident and former Waveland resident, stated, "I think something should be done immediately. Even though signs have been placed indicating a deep hole is there people will still go out there."

"With so many people on the beach from Buccaneer and Gulfside someone is bound to go in that area," she said.

"Officials should attempt to do anything possible to fill the hole. It really looks bad for Waveland and Bay St. Louis to have this kind of publicity," Gerideau noted.

BILL RIDDLE

Waveland resident Bill Riddle said, "They should have done something a long time ago."

"Politicians are passing the buck on who should do something. They should stop talking about it," he stated.

"Beachfront residents have rights up to 200 feet out into the sound, maybe it's their responsibility or the state's problem," Riddle said.

MARYJO KRUECK

Maryjo Krueck of Waveland stated, "This thing is disgusting, and that's what everybody else, you've interviewed should be saying."

"I agree with the editor of 'The Sea Coast Echo' or whoever wrote the editorial in last week's paper 100 percent," Krueck noted.

"That's nuts not to do anything, something should be done immediately," she stated.

"The newspaper should start something," Krueck suggested.

"Maybe if the child of some important public official drowns in the hole something will be done," she added.

VERA BOWERS

Shoreline Park resident Vera Bowers also stated the hole should be filled or something.

"They dug that place out and just left it," she noted.

DOROTHY KOLCZYNSKI

Dorothy Kolczynski of Shoreline Park stated, "The hole was dug out and it should be filled in."

LARRY HOUSEY

Larry Housey of Waveland and New Orleans speculated, "I wonder if the people who have drowned in the hole were illiterate and can't read the signs. This could be a possibility."

MILDRED HOUSEY

Mrs. Larry (Mildred) Housey suggested the surf hole be filled with oyster shells.

"It seems with all the oyster shells people seem to have just laying around they could use these to fill the hole," she stated.

"The warning signs on the beach are always knocked down," Housey added.

LEE DOROTHY

Pearlington resident Lee Dorothy was not familiar with the deep hole situation.

SHEILA AND O.S. MCMAHON

Sheila McMahon of Waveland said, "I think it's terrible. Somebody somewhere ought to be able to get the money to do something."

"The hole is right in front of Buccaneer Park which attracts great numbers of people to the beach," she stated.

BRUCE BARLOW

Bay St. Louis citizen Bruce Barlow reported, "I would like to see the hole filled and the problem solved."

ELAINE ANDERSON

Waveland resident Elaine Anderson said, "Something seriously needs to be done. Some 25 people have died in that hole."

"Longo's idea to sink barges in the hole seems like a reasonable idea and it would also produce a fishing area," Anderson stated.

JOHNNY LABAUE

Johnny LaBauve of Shoreline Park feels the hole should be filled or fenced.

"I go on that area of the beach with my kids because it's a nice spot," he reported.

"Officials should do something to mark the area better," LaBauve suggested.

The Shoreline Park resident said, "Buccaneer Park is a beautiful park, but it is not used as much as it should because people are afraid of the hole."

"I've called officials at the County Courthouse and they don't seem to know who has authority to do something about the hole," LaBauve stated.

"The people I speak to say they will check it out, but nothing is ever accomplished," he said.

"How many more people will have to drown," LaBauve stated.

"If an important public official's child drowns in the hole maybe something will be done," he speculated.

"I'm glad to see the newspaper is taking an interest," LaBauve added.

BRIAN POOLE

Brian Poole of Waveland noted, "Something really ought to be done."

"Somebody should be riding around keeping people out of that area," Poole suggested.

YMCA facility opens in Harrison

The Greater Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA has acquired the property formerly known as the Francis K. Collins Swim Club in Mississippi City.

The property includes more than four acres of land, has a lake, a club house and a six-lane swimming pool with diving and training areas.

The new YMCA will be known as the Francis K. Collins Branch of the Harrison County YMCA.

The YMCA will take possession of the property immediately.

Many new swim programs will be implemented within the next two weeks - from the water babies swim programs to senior citizens exercise program.

A Harrison County YMCA Swim Team is also being organized.

Coach Jamie Day will be organizing the new program.

Jamie or Marth Collins, assistant coach, will be available for any questions from interested parents and youth.

The YMCA will start a Summer Camp in July, complete with instructions in water safety, art, crafts, athletics, nature study and field trips.

Many other programs for all ages will soon be added.

Members of the Greater Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA Policy Board are Woodrow Bloomman, Alf Canler, Vic

Daniels, Glen Swetman, Leo Seals, Jack Shots, and Ken Sadler.

This board will be working to organize other YMCA's along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

A new telephone number and address will soon be published. Meanwhile, for further information, contact the Mississippi Gulf Coast YMCA at 1810 Government Street in Ocean Springs, or call 875-2866.

The YMCA is a United Way Agency.

Shelly Dedeaux shines in AAU

New Orleans' Domino AAU team won the recent 18 and under Jr. Olympics AAU Basketball Tournament for the Mississippi and Louisiana Region at Pearl River Junior College in Poplarville.

The Dominos team will now advance to the National AAU Tournament later this summer in Kansas City to defend their national title. Dominos winning came as really no surprise as the New Orleans team was loaded with some of the best talent in the nation.

In fact, all five of the Domino starters were named to the AAU Tournament team. Kim Mulky, a graduate of Hammond High School and starter this past season for La. Tech, last year's number one team in the nation, was named Most Valuable Player.

Janice Lawrence, Mulky's teammate at La. Tech and native of Stone County also made the elite team. Also add UNO's Sandra Hodge of Clinton to that list. Hodge was the nation's leading scorer last year.

Eugenia Connors of Harrison Central and the nation's number one college prospect also made the elite team, as will as Michelle Anderson of UNO.

Also making the All-Tournament team were Madelyn Doucet, Acadiana; Joyce Walker, Baton Rouge; Jennifer Gilloum and Katrina Armstrong of North Mississippi and Robin Weems, Jackson.

Walker and Doucet will be playing for LSU next year.

"This tournament gave PRC excellent exposure," said Billy Holmes, the PRC head coach. "We received many favorable comments about our facilities."

Holmes also said many university coaches visited the PRC campus during the four day tournament. Colleges represented included Alabama, McNeese, La. Tech, Mississippi College, Southeastern, UNO, Belhaven, Springhill and LSU. Apples, a local team made up of Pearl River College players and local stars won one of three games. However, one of the contests was a 64-62 squaker.

PRC's Shelly Dedeaux, a sophomore from Hancock North Central, had an excellent tournament as she averaged 12 points per contest. PRC's Tedia Hookfin also averaged 10 points per game.

Dominos team was really never challenged as they erased their competition 111-42, 105-33, 99-66 and 97-55. Acadiana from Lafayette and North Mississippi finished second and third.

keeping you in touch

By F. M. Kyle Jr.
Gulf Coast District Manager

Vacation season is here. This summer, let long distance help you plan your trip and keep in touch after you leave home.

— Make airline, hotel, or motel reservations well in advance. When you call long distance for reservations, check the directory for a toll-free "800" number.

— Before you leave home, call the friends you'll be visiting to let them know when you'll be arriving.

— After you leave home, keep in touch with family and friends back home. Let them know that you arrived and how your trip is going.

Whether you'll be vacationing in Mississippi or in another state or country, use long distance to plan ahead and keep in touch. It's easy, fast, and inexpensive.

Shopping by phone makes sense. It's quick, convenient, and economical. Besides saving time and effort, it can help you save money on gasoline, on automobile wear, and on babysitting costs. And you can find the best buys on what you need.

With your phone and the Bell System Yellow Pages you can locate particular items or brands, check on sizes, colors, and materials, find out about deliveries, locations, and store hours. And you don't waste time and gasoline driving around town looking for parking places and locating the goods you need.

Shop by phone and use the Bell System Yellow Pages. Save time. Save money. Save energy. They're more important today than ever before.

Sometimes a phone seems to be out of order, when actually the receiver has been left off the hook.

If your phone receiver is off the hook, you miss all your calls—including the very important ones.

Don't risk it. Hang up carefully after each call.

Someone's waiting.
Reach out with long distance.

Miss Rattle Star wins in slow start recovery

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)
PEARL RIVER, La.—Usually, in a short race covering 200 yards the horse that breaks on top wins. But Miss Rattle Star, owned by Terry Peterson of Nacaise Crossing, proved to be the exception to the rule Sunday at Oak Downs.

Ridden by Ray Robbins of Bay, Ala., Miss Rattle Star was beaten out of the starting gate by Pistol Pete in the 200-yard seventh. But Peterson's filly put on a strong close and won by a neck, the third straight win for Miss Rattle Star.

Another Hancock County winner Sunday at Oak Downs was April Flow owned by Kelly Nacaise of The Kiln. April Flow, ridden by Marty Comfort of The Kiln, beat Georgie's Boy, another Hancock County horse.

Cheerleader camp slated

The University of Southern Mississippi will host a cheerleading camp July 7-10 for junior high, middle school, and high school cheerleaders.

Participants will receive extensive instruction in new cheers and chants, pompon routines, partner stunts, pyramids, and tumbling.

Also, there will be time every day for each squad to work privately with an instructor. Ribbons and spirit sticks will be awarded nightly.

Universal Cheerleaders Association will provide the instructional staff for the camp.

UCA trained more than 20,000 high school and junior high school cheerleaders last year and also trained many of America's top collegiate squads including the top five squads on this year's Collegiate Cheerleading Championship which will be seen on CBS this spring.

Further information about the camp can be obtained by calling toll free at 1-800-238-0286.

Shrimpers urged to avoid oyster reefs in the Sound

The Bureau of Marine Resources wishes to advise shrimpers to avoid oyster reefs when trawling in Mississippi Sound. Under the provisions of Ordinance No. 89 of the Department of Wildlife Conservation, it is unlawful to trawl on any public reef area that has been planted with oysters by the Commission. Reefs are usually marked on each of the four corners with white PVC pipe, the tops of which are painted international orange.

Avoiding these areas will prevent damage to trawls as well as unnecessary damage to developing young oysters.

For more information on the location of these areas, contact Bureau of Marine Resources, Saltwater Fisheries Division.

Gun and Rod Club sponsors youth fishing rodeo

By ELLIS CUEVAS.
Sunny skies greeted almost 100 young boys and girls who participated in the seventh annual Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club's fishing rodeo. A registration booth was set up by members at the intersection of Beach Boulevard and Ulman Avenue. Members and wives of the club had a small concession stand with hot dogs, cold drinks and snowballs. Matthew Cameron was named king fisherman and Rhonda Bilbo queen fisherman. The two were selected on a point system on entries in the various categories in the fishing rodeo. Trophies were awarded to the first, second and third place winners in eligible categories.

In the saltwater division the winners listed first, second and third are:

Speckle trout—Melvin Loyse, Dale Bilbo, and Jerry Holland;

Redfish—Ronnie Bourgeois, Louis Fernandez, and Kevin Ladner;

Croaker—Clyde Koerner, Hayden Larroux, and Alfred Serio;

Flounder—Joedy Stieffel, Clyde Koerner, and Mary Mondus;

Ground Mullet—Kevin Ladner, Jerry Holland, and Craig Breland;

White Trout—Alfred Serio, David Pitalo, and Rhonda Bilbo;

Sheepshead—Ronnie Bourgeois, Clyde Koerner, and Jerry Holland.

Drum—Paul Fernandez, and Mark Smith with no third place.

In the freshwater division the following were named winners with first, second and third listed as:

Green Trout—Geja Carter, Geja Carter, and Christopher Lott;

Blue Gill Perch—Matthew Cameron took all three places;

Shell Cracker Perch—Willie Johnson, Matthew Cameron, and Matthew Cameron.

The largest fish winners were Jerry Holland and Mark Smith.

A special crab division was held for youngsters under ages four and five.

The winners were Brad Jenkins, largest crab; Bobby Gavagnie, trophy; Marcia Williams, trophy; and Leo Koerner, trophy.

Numerous merchants contributed some special awards and persons not winning a trophy had an opportunity of winning a special prize when officials pulled names from the entry blanks.

A special thanks was offered by Frank Ladner, president of the Bay-Waveland Gun and Rod Club, to all merchants making contributions in helping make the kids' rodeo a success.

Motorcycle Safety

Words to Live By

Increased Popularity: The high cost of driving cars, and cost of gasoline have drawn attention to the advantages of the motorcycle. There are over 7 million motorcycles being ridden by over 18 million riders today.

Fuel Consumption: EPA tests state the most fuel efficient motorcycles get over 120 mpg and an average of 47 street motorcycles over 50cc's was 71.8 mpg. Most motorcycles run on regular gasoline and none require the use of unleaded gasoline.

Safety: With more people riding motorcycles today, here are some suggestions being offered by the Motorcycle Industry Council.

Helmets and Eye Protection: The MIC recommends the voluntary use of approved safety helmets and eye protection. Head injuries account for the majority of motorcycle fatalities and wearing a helmet greatly reduces the incidence of serious and fatal head injuries.

"I have dandruff! What can I do about it?"

This is a commonly-asked question, since most of us either have experienced or will experience some form of dandruff.

Dandruff is usually defined as a condition of itching and flaking of the scalp. Occasionally these symptoms become quite severe, and there may also be some redness and inflammation—generally dermatologists term this seborrheic dermatitis.

Treatment: No product will "cure" dandruff. But regular use of a good dandruff shampoo is often sufficient to reduce itching and flaking.

A very effective and widely dermatologist-recommended treatment is a shampoo containing a coal tar extract.

But don't turn up your nose! Not all tar shampoos look and smell like a freshly paved road. One company in particular has developed a process that removes the unpleasant odor and appearance characteristic of most tar shampoos.

This product is Neutrogena T/Gel Shampoo. It is pleasant to use, gentle but effective, and is recommended by dermatologists.

MEDICAL JOURNAL

According to a recent broadcast sponsored by the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center and The Prudential Insurance Company, automobile safety restraints for children are equally vital to the welfare of the child and his parents.

Researcher William Hall of the University of North Carolina Highway Safety Center reported to the American Association for Automotive Medicine that roughly 200 accidents in a single year in North Carolina were caused by children who were unrestrained by special seats or seatbelts.

Hall said, "Children who are restrained will behave better. They can't jump up and down, hang out the window, or interfere with the driver. Better-behaved children should mean fewer distractions for the driver and should lead to safer driving."

MSU officials urge early aid applications

Financial aid officials at Mississippi State University are expediting process of 1981-82 student loan applications that the Reagan Administration's budget cuts will probably be implemented Oct. 1 instead of July 1.

In addition, Larry Blankenship, MSU financial aid director, said he expects the proposed $3.4 million cutbacks for Mississippi State will be reduced to $1.5 million.

"The wheels were already in motion for 1981-82 in financial aid offices" and in Congress itself," Blankenship said. The Administration's timing, and the compromises it will take to implement the cutbacks as quickly as possible, are also reasons for optimism, according to Blankenship.

"Everyone, including Mississippi State, is trying to process as many applications as possible before Oct. 1, because everything processed prior to that date would be under current regulations," he said.

"We don't expect to see much loss. In fact, we expect to see an increase in the number of federally insured loans and the total dollar amount we'll process for '81-82."

Blankenship believes more MSU students will apply for loans this year because of the cuts expected in all federal student aid programs, coupled with increases in tuition and housing fees.

"It's going to create that much more financial need and will compound the loss already incurred. I daresay we'll handle between 2,500-3,000 federally insured loans for '81-82."

However, Blankenship said he believes most of the federal dollars saved in '81-82 will be lost in '82-83 after the Reagan Administration "has time to sit back and reflect on what happened and take a different approach."

Blankenship said his office is advising students to make loan applications as soon as possible. "I think the longer we delay, the more skittish lenders will be that the government's not going to back them up the closer we get to September or October."

He pointed out that when cutbacks were first projected, some lenders stopped making student loans. He added,

Workshops, camps listed

GYMNASTICS

The University of Southern Mississippi will offer the first annual National Gymnastics Institute the week of July 27-31.

Girls 7 years of age or older may register. The gymnastic camp is designed to improve every student's gymnastic ability by providing extensive training sessions by USM's enthusiastic and qualified instructors.

These sessions with an instructor-to-gymnast ratio of no more than one to ten will provide the participant with the ultimate in personalized instruction in all Olympic gymnastic events: floor exercise, uneven bars, beam, vault, high bar, parallel bars, rings and pommel horse.

The institute will also provide sessions on elements of the new compulsory routines as well as sessions working on optional routines.

Paul Ziert, head gymnastic coach at the University of Oklahoma will serve as camp head coach.

Ziert, one of the United States most knowledgeable, experienced and dynamic coaches, will be assisted by a fine instructional staff.

The University of Southern Mississippi Gymnastic Coach Mike Moulton will conduct and coach in the Institute.

For more information call USM at (601) 266-4247 or write USM Intramural Recreational Sports, USM Box 5155, Hattiesburg, Ms 39401.

Jan Davis, USM mathematics instructor, will conduct the seven classes in Southern Hall Room 202. The textbook to be used can be purchased at the first class meeting.

Math anxiety is a relatively new topic in the area of self-awareness and self-improvement. This area is receiving much attention from educators who have encountered many adults suffering from math anxiety.

The classes will cover the many uses of calculators and will not involve a stressful "math class" atmosphere.

Adults of all ages are eligible to register since the mathematics will be applied to everyday problems as useable math.

GCJC Band eligibility expanded

Students at the Jefferson Davis and Jackson County campuses will be eligible to join the Gulf Coast Junior College band for the 1981-82 school term, announced Dr. John E. Jenkins.

Jenkins, band director at the Perkinston Campus, said this marks the first time full scholarships will be available to any student with previous band experience.

Band members, each of whom can earn two semester hours credit, will rehearse at their respective campuses. They will perform as a unit for football games and at other public appearances, Jenkins said.

He said the band traditionally has been composed of students attending the Perkinston Campus.

"Now that students at all campuses can participate, we hope to build a bigger, better organization, something that should go a long way in promoting college-wide school spirit."

Additional information is available from Jenkins at Perkinston, 928-5211, Ext. 261, or the campus student services, Ext. 309.

Navy Ocean Science Award winners to visit NORDA

Two high school students who won Navy Ocean Science Awards at the 32nd annual International Science and Engineering Fair (ISEF) in Milwaukee May 13 will be paying a week-long orientation visit to the Navy's oceanographic center in Hancock County June 15 to 19
as guests of the Naval Ocean
Research and Development Activity (NORDA).

The two students, Frank Duncan of Knoxville, Tenn. and Scott Hampton of Grand

Junction, Colo. won the expenses paid trips here when the science projects they exhibited at the ISEF were selected as the best among those considered applicable to the realm of the ocean sciences.
Duncan, 17, exhibited a project called "An Idea Whose
Time Has Come: Solar Sea
Thermal Energy."
The theme of 16-year-old Hampton's display was
"Factors Affecting Fluid Sheets."

The ISEF is the "World Series" of high school science competitions, in which some 450 finalists from local and regional science fairs all over the U.S. and a number of foreign nations compete each May for prizes and special awards presented by more than 40 representative activities of government, industry and professional associations.
ISEF participating sponsors include the General Motors Corporation, Westinghouse
Science Scholarships and Awards, Eastman Kodak
Company, the American Medical Association, the Marine Technology Society, and NORDA.

This is the first year that Navy awards have been made specifically in ocean science.

In addition to the expense-paid visits to NORDA, Duncan and Hampton also received inscribed onyx desk pen sets, one year subscriptions to SEAPOWER, the magazine of the Navy League, and their high school libraries will receive subscriptions to the Proceedings of the U.S. Naval Institute.

The Navy's participation in the ISEF and in several other programs to encourage the growth of student interest in science is coordinated by the Chief of Naval Research.

LEGION AWARD WINNERS—Winners of the American Legion Award this year at Bay Catholic Elementary School are Victor Behan Marchese of Bay St. Louis and Kelly Kolodziej of Diamondhead, both sixth graders. The award is sponsored by Clement R. Bontemps Post No. 139 in Bay St.
Louis. (Echo staff photos)

Nursing grads pinned in candle light ceremony

Participating in Pearl River College's School of Nursing formal pinning ceremony recently on the Poplarville campus were some 45 graduates, the same number as last year's record class.

Charlotte Odom, department director, and other faculty members presented nursing lamps and flowers to the graduates.

Dr. Marvin R. White, president of PRC, welcomed the large number of family members and friends to the coliseum. He pointed out the importance of the nursing profession and gave statistics on how well the PRC RN nurses stacked up with four-year degree graduates.

Mary Draper gave the response to Dr. White's comments and special music was presented by graduate Donnie Mayes.

Norma Jean Hammill, science instructor at PRC was selected by the class to serve as the guest speaker.

The processional and a musical interlude were played by Thomas Strebeck of Poplarville.

Instructors Valerie DeCoux and Maxine Wainwright handled the lighting of the candles and led the Nightingale Pledge.

The Reverend Curtis Nobles handled the benediction and Howard Nobles gave the invocation.

All of the graduates received associate degrees at a formal Pearl River College commencement later.

The 1981 Pearl River nursing graduates include:

CARRIERE—Margaret S. Bible, Walter C. Black, Jr., Danna Johnson Hennes.

PICAYUNE—Walter A. Holmes, Jr., Johnnie Jones, Rebecca M. Ladner, Carolyn Loveless.

BAY ST. LOUIS—Mary W. Draper.

PERKINSTON—Mary Ann Shaw.

WAVELAND—Mary Erin Coye Stroud.

Wright to attend Business Week 81

Derek Wright of Bay St. Louis, student at Bay Senior High, is among those awarded scholarships to attend coeducational Business Week '81 at Mississippi University for Women June 14-19.

A record number of students are expected for the fourth annual seminar, designed to teach high school students more about America's free enterprise system.

The program will draw top leaders of business and industry to the Columbus campus to explain the facts about the nation's economic system. The seminar will utilize films, computer games and field trips to businesses and industries to supplement lectures and discussions of capitalism.

Businesses, industries, chambers of commerce and civic and educational groups in the state are providing scholarships of $150 each to defray all costs to students.

Businesses and other groups have also invested in the Business Week endowment fund, to provide perpetual scholarships for participants.
